Where the skies are clear and blue,
Chautauqua High, we come to you.
Name that's known afar and near,
In our hearts we hold you dear,
Our love is true.

CHORUS:
Hail, oh hail,
Alma mater,
We will always
Keep our school
Chautauqua High

tauqua,
our best,
bove the rest,

Where the gates stand open wide,
Teacher, student, side by side.
Keep our standards ever high;
Our true love will never die,
Whate'er betide.

REVEREND CHARLES H. HAGADORN

IN MEMORIAM

Reverend Charles H. Hagadorn, who died in June of 1955, was admired and respected by the students of our school. We remember him for his straight-forwardness, his friendliness, and his fine Christian example. Through knowing Reverend Hagadorn, our lives have been enriched. We will always remember him as a fine person and a good Christian.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

For Chautauqua Central 1943 was an important year, for in September they enlarged the school to include a kindergarten. Among Miss Strickland's students, four have remained to graduate with the others they have gathered in their climb. These are Cynthia Wells, Carol Morse, Phyllis Webber, and Bruce Williams.

After kindergarten we had to start working when we entered first grade under Miss Maude Skinner. Here James Preston came from Buffalo, and Alton Sears joined him in becoming members of the class. We then moved on into Mrs. Ruth Wheeler's second grade. Anne Turner from Jamestown, Paul Colligan from North East, and Roger White joined us in Miss Akin's third grade. In the fourth grade under Mrs. Dora Hall, Gordon Saulsgiver from Lakewood, George Cornell from Lakewood, and Martha Genaway from Mayville became three new classmates. Then we passed under the supervision of Mrs. Garnett Johnson, when David Lindquist came from Frewsburg. Mrs. Dorothy Fetzer helped us through an uneventful, but very enjoyable year as sixth graders, and then Mr. Hussey took over in the seventh grade. This year Fred Humble came from Panama, and George Nickerson from Gerry to join us in our first year of Junior High School, which we enjoyed in spite of New York State history. In eighth grade we added Gladys Michael from Southwestern, and Mrs. Hunt prepared us for the four years of high school ahead of us.

In the fall we stepped into our freshman year with Mr. Kyle Morse as class advisor. Here we met our new recruits from Ashville, two of whom had started out in kindergarten together. They were Alberta Carlson and Patricia Davenport, who were joined by Phillip Newman from Jamestown in second grade, Donald Carlson from Jamestown in fifth grade, and Charles Cross from Chautauqua in fifth grade. Then in our sophomore year Betsy Shields joined us from Greensburg, Richard Johnson came in our junior year from Southwestern, and Charles Mark from India and Allan Schifferli from Fredonia joined us in our last and final year of school. Mr. Allen Rice was our faithful advisor for our last three years of school, which certainly must have been a trying experience for him. Some of the projects which have earned us our vast wealth are bake sales, candy sales, dances, sale of sweat-shirts and T-shirts, dinners, Christmas wreaths, Hansel and Gretel dolls, magazines, class play, and Hoyt candies. One of the most thrilling of our experiences took place in our second year when we picked out our class rings. The next year the high spot was our Junior-Senior Prom, "Summer Fantasy", which was held at the Country Club. During our senior year we asked Mrs. Johnson to pick out a book on sports to put in the library in memory of Edwin Barton. The highlights of this year have been the class play, "Gabriel, Blow Your Horn", the yearbook, and the class trip to New York, with Mr. and Mrs. Rice as chaperones.

This is the history of the Class of 1956, with twenty-five members.

CHAUTAUQUA STUDENT CODE

We, the students of Chautauqua Central School, will strive to uphold and maintain this code, so that our school will be "Nothing Less than the Best".

1. We will be courteous to our teachers and to our fellow students.
2. We will endeavor to be a credit to our school by doing our best in any activity we enter.
3. We will be a help instead of a hindrance to other students and to our teachers.
4. We will get the most out of school by accepting our responsibilities and carrying them out to the best of our ability.
5. We will strive to be better citizens by respecting nationalities, religions, and political views other than our own.
6. We will support the activities and projects of classes other than our own.
7. We will place fair play above winning in all forms of competition.
8. We will be united as one student body by placing the interests of the school above personal interests.
9. We will maintain the high standards of character, scholarship, and sportsmanship that have been set by those before us.

Where the skies are clear and blue,
Chautauqua High, we come to you.
Name that's known afar and near,
In our hearts we hold you dear,
Our love is true.

CHORUS:
Hail, oh hail
Alma mater
We will always
Keep our school
Chautauqua

tauqua,
our best,
bove the rest,

Where the gates stand open wide,
Teacher, student, side by side.
Keep our standards ever high;
Our true love will never die,
Whate'er betide.
